"Beif" is certainly the best that Mr. Owens gives the public, and in view of the interesting character of this play, the pleasure it affords and the great truths that it suggests, we are surprised that it has been kept from the boards. Some time ago a gentleman of this city, whose experience in life and knowledge of affairs and men entitle his opinion o our consideration, upon learning that Mr. Owens was to play here was heard 'Self,' for I believe it would benefit every one who hears it." BILLS OF COST.

The attention of the circuit and criminal court clerks, district attorneys-general, and circuit judges is called to the to remark: "I hope he will give us following opinion of the supreme court 'Self,' for I believe it would benefit of the State, delivered at Jackson, June 6, 1874. OPINION BY JUDGE M'FARLAND. This case is brought to this court upon several questions as to costs claimed by | like any specimen of rock.

they were filed, although we see no ures given may be implicitly relied on express requirement of this sort in the as correct. tion 7, section 4551, allowing fees to cierks, as the authority for the charge.
This is as follows: "For receiving, filing, and entering on docket any bill, petition, plea, demurrer, or other pleadwas then read by Mr. Dod, and after was no error in striking it out. 2. The cierk also charged a fee of ten cents for docketing the warrant. The authority for this is claimed to be subsection 15, 4557: "For entering such cause on the trial docket, ten cents." A criminal case certainly does not belong to the trial docket until there is an indictment or presentment. It is no doubt more convenient to have a docket of causes, where the defendants have been bound over by magistrates, but we find no provision requiring it. In prescribing the general duties of clerks, section of code 4040, sub-section 2 enacts that of the prosecutors and defendants under ecognizance, to appear at said term. 1,5062. From these sections it does not appear that the clerk is required to keep such docket, or is allowed any fee for doing so. 3. The next question is, whether the State or county is chargeable with the costs of the subpœnss issued for defendants' witnesses, in those cases where the State or county is adjudged to pay the State's costs. It was held, in Tucker and Oakes vs. the State, 2 Head 555, that it was an established principle of For the trotting horse, Schinderhaunis, the common law that costs cannot be recovered by a defendant from the government, and that this was not changed | Tennessee, cooler and generally clear by any provision of the code, and that | weather, with northerly winds and risthe State was not chargeable with the costs of a witness for the defendant, who was acquitted. Section 5585 enacts that the State or county shall pay the costs accrued in behalf of the State in certain cases. We are of opinionthat the costs of subpoena for the defendant's witnesses are the defendant's costs and not costs accrued in behalf of the State, and were, therefore, properly stricken out. The fact that the defendant is given the compulsory process of subpœus to bring his witnesses does not charge the State with the costs of the process. There is an apparent hardship in requiring the clerk to perform services which he may, in the event the defendant is insolvent, and in other events receive no compensation, as there is in requiring a defendant who is not found guilty, to defend himself at his own expense, but so the law is written, and there are, perhaps, equally hard cases for which the law makes no provision. It is true the act of 1859-60, Thompson & Steger's statutes, 5581a, seems to give the court the power to adjudge the defendant's costs against the State or county in the case of acquittal. One of the cases in this record was one of acquittal. The judgment was that the defendant go hence, and that the clerk certify the costs herein to the comptrollerof the treasury for payment." This might be construed to mean all the costs, the defendant's as well as the State's costs, as the usual order is that the clerk certify to the costs accrued in behalf of the State, but we do not think the court intended to give judgement against the State for the defendant's costs, but simply to order the costs to be certified for payment according to law, which would be only the State's costs. The claim for subpoenas issued for the defendant is, however, not in this case. The next question is this, the fee bill, code 4551, among other fees, allowed, for entering judgment for cost only, twenty-five cents, for each order or mo-tion and order thereon, twenty-five cents. See sub-sections 27 and 10. One of the cases was disposed of by the following entry: "In this case, on mo-tion, and for satisfactory reasons appearing to the court, it is ordered that the above warrant be dismissed and the said defendant discharged, and that the State of Tennessee pay her own costs, in this behalf accrued, and that the cierk of this court make out and certify the same to the comptroller of the treasury for payment," Under sub-section 27 the clerk charged for judgment for costs, twenty-five cents; under sub-section 10 for motion and order to dismiss, twenty-five cents, and also under sub-section 10, "order of discharge, twenty five cents; order to certify, twenty-five cents. The last two items were stricken out; CITY AND COUNTY PROEBTEDNESS judge was correct. It is true the entry embraces a motion and to dismiss and judgment Memphis and five lots in Fort Picker- fees; but it also contains an order to discharge the prisoner, and an order to certify the bill of costs, for this the clerk charges two other fees of twenty-five cents each, upon the idea that each is in order, in the meaning of sub-section ten. There is no special fee allowed for an order to certify the costs, but the claim is based on sub-section ten for each order. The most that can be
